

Partial Certified Family Life Coach Program: Family Science Application

A credential in this category means a graduate from your program has met the requirements for family science proficiency.

Students must successfully complete all courses you identify in the application that include required content areas for CFLC certification.

Program certification is good for five years. A report is due after each year. After the fifth year, programs must resubmit materials demonstrating they are still covering the requirements. However, any changes during that five years in programing or person of contact must be communicated with FLCA in the yearly report.

If you have any questions, email the Standards Committee at info@flcassociation.org. Please put "Program Certification Questions" in the subject line.

SECTION 3: FAMILY SCIENCE SECTION

- Full CFLC curriculum applicants must have at least 270 hours (instructional and independent work time) covering the entire family science section below. Applicable courses may be listed under multiple areas. For example, you may have one course that fulfills requirements for both Family Theories and Human Development. Likewise, you may also need to list two courses to cover any given area.
- Please attach the course descriptions and syllabi for all courses being used.
- If your course descriptions or syllabi are not clear as to how they address the standards below, include module or meeting outlines that show content covered, assignments, and contact hours.
- See more on Family Science Standards in Supplemental Materials.
